

LapStacker® takes the load off Johnny and his family.

LapStacker helps father with C4 tetraplegia contribute to family life and conserve energy.

Problem

With a challenging career and the demands that come from a complete spinal cord injury, Johnny's emotional state can easily affect his precious energy levels. If he drops something, like his phone, or the frustrated builds because he can't contribute more to his family, his energy and self esteem takes a big hit.

Solution

With a challenging career and the demands that come from a complete spinal cord injury, Johnny's emotional state can easily affect his precious energy levels. If he drops something, like his phone, or the frustrated builds because he can't contribute more to his family, his energy and self esteem takes a big hit.

Results and benefits

Johnny uses his LapStacker daily to secure his phone and lunchbox to his lap, without worry. He also uses it to assist his family whenever there's an opportunity, which removes some of the burden from his wife and shows his sons he can contribute more physically to everyday life.

"Using the LapStacker allows me to do some practical tasks, like carrying a picnic basket, so that my wife or carer doesn't have to. It also shows my kids that Dad can do stuff, which makes me feel great! This may seem like a small thing, but it all adds up."

"As a bonus, the LapStacker is so easy to use - it saves me energy rather than taking it. It's totally worth the investment, simply clip and off you go."

Johnny has two young boys, works full time as an academic researcher and uses a power wheelchair.

"My wife does most of the physical tasks in our family - she does a lot and it hurts that I can't do more. I wish I could help her and my boys more physically, even in a small way."
